We request that a "Rochester Bedside Lab" be obtained for ORLAUNCH-1. We plan to give him this as part of a termination bonus, or, if it is not given to him as a termination bonus, we may deduct the cost from his salary. He has already expressed willingness to pay for it. This item is not available in his country because it would not be profitable to make it for the small number of those in agent's specialized field. This "lab" is especially important to agent because it has syringes which can be adjusted to hold more exactly measured amounts of reagents than standard syringes. The pamphlet which is enclosed as an attachment for Headquarters was given to agent by a colleague who bought a set while studying in PRERINE. We assume Headquarters can get this from any good medical supply house or directly from the manufacturer: Rochester Products Company, Rochester, Minnesota.
